BISBEE, ARIZ., OCT. 26, 1900.

THE Legislature of Kentucky have attempted to do away with some of the pecular effects of the Goebel Election Bill and have compelled a statute Which is intended to be a nonpartisan election law as agreed upon by the conference held by members of both parties. The Governor will sign the bill.

ARBITRATION must be made effective by a choice of the parties at interest in each case, so that expert men, having a local interest in harmony and peace may intelligently hold the scales. In New Zealand it has been made successful this way. Once this problem is solved there need be no further wrangling between litigants, for before their own jury they can come to a settlement.

THE southwest today is the one section of the United States that is constantly being investigated by the capitalist and home-seeker. Every train J. M. O'CONNELL brings investors and those searching for locations. Among these comers all lines of business is represented. That the field is here there is no question, for the yet undeveloped resources of the southwest can not be estimated. The possibilities are great. With a little capital and the spirit of enterprise, opportunities are unlimited.

THE war between the Boxers and the foreign powers is considered to be at an end, and deliberations between the representatives of the Imperial goverment and the allied powers have begun, the result of which will be the conclusion of terms of peace, which will be permanent between theChinese Empire and the civilized powers. The Chinese, however, are a peculiar people and of uncertain mood. Their em- HEREFORD & HAZZARD pire is so vast and so unwieldly that it is impossible, so it seems, for one portion to know or agree to what is being done by the other portion. In addition to this there is a strong feeling against the Imperial family in many parts of the empire, and rebellion is apt to break out at any time against the em peror and his advisers, which rebellion would be armed against the powers who supported his authority
